Venue : UG Microbiology Lab, Cauvery college for Women (Autonomous).

Haemoglobin is an iron rich protein found in Red Blood Cells (RBC), giving them their unique red colour. It is primarily responsible for carrying oxygen from your lungs to the tissues and organs of our body. A haemoglobin test is often used to detect anaemia, which is a deficiency of RBC that can have adverse health effects. Free Haemoglobin check up was done for 74 staff members (both teaching and non teaching) of our college.
