Report on Providing Seed Pencils

Event: Distributing Seed Pencil

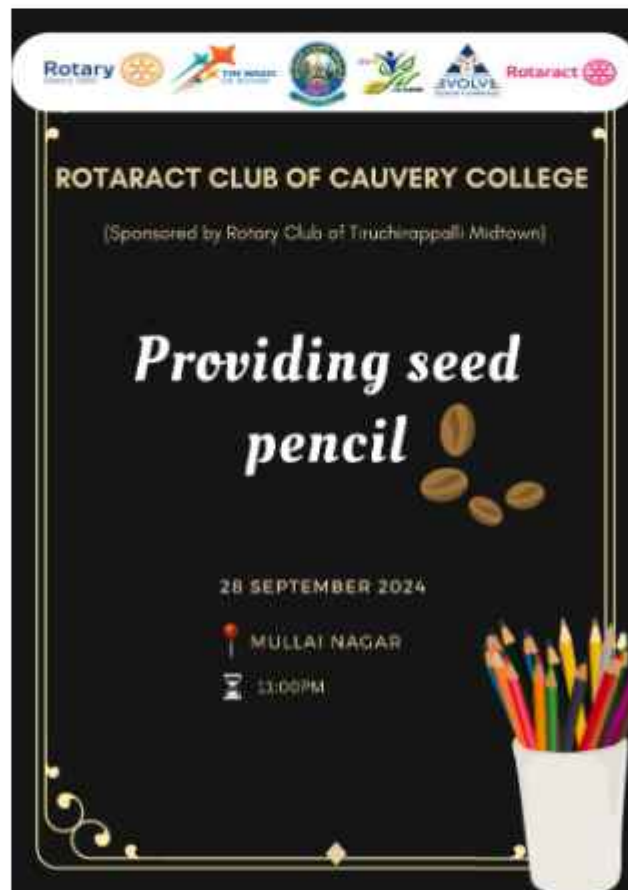

Date: September 28, 2024

Venue: Mudhaliyar Street

Organized by: Rotaract Club of Cauvery College

Introduction:

The Rotaract Club of Cauvery College, as part of its ongoing commitment to promoting sustainability and environmental awareness, conducted a unique project titled "Providing Seed Pencils." The project was aimed at spreading awareness about eco-friendly practices and encouraging the use of sustainable alternatives to everyday items like pencils. Seed pencils are biodegradable pencils that contain seeds in their base. Once the pencil is used up, the seed can be planted, contributing to afforestation and encouraging environmental responsibility.

Objective:

The primary goal of the project was to distribute seed pencils to the community and educate them on how small, everyday choices can have a significant positive impact on the environment. By choosing to use seed pencils, individuals not only reduce waste but also contribute directly to the environment by planting a tree once the pencil is no longer usable.

Project Execution:

On the 28th of September 2024, the club members gathered at Mudhaliyar Street to distribute seed pencils to the local community. Each member actively participated in engaging with the community, explaining the importance of sustainable products, and encouraging people to adopt eco-friendly alternatives in their daily lives.

Activities and Participation:

1. Procurement of Seed Pencils: Club members arranged for the procurement of eco-friendly seed pencils from a reputed supplier.
2. Awareness Campaign: Before distributing the pencils, a brief awareness campaign was conducted to educate the public on the importance of environmental conservation and how seed pencils can contribute to a greener future.
3. Distribution: The team distributed the pencils to people across Mudhaliyar Street, explaining how they can plant the pencils after use and nurture them into plants.
4. Engagement with the Public: Club members engaged in one-on-one conversations with recipients to spread awareness about the environmental benefits of the project.

Impact:

Community Engagement: The project received positive feedback from the community, with many expressing their appreciation for the club's effort in promoting environmental responsibility.

Conclusion:

The "Providing Seed Pencils" project was a resounding success. It aligned with the Rotaract Club of Cauvery College's mission of fostering positive change within the community while addressing global issues like environmental sustainability. The enthusiastic participation of our members and the positive response from the community made this project a meaningful step toward promoting a greener, more sustainable future.
